Public Art Walking Tours

Location: Civic District / Central Business District

Time: 9.30am to 10.30am

Have you ever come across a sculpture or artwork in the middle of the city and wondered what the work is about or who the artist is? As part of its mission to promote visual literacy and champion exciting new public artworks, the Public Art Trust is organising a series of free guided public art walking tours that will take participants through the Civic District and Central Business District to explore some of the prominent public artworks installed across the city.

Join us for a morning of public art in the city and learn about the story behind these public artworks — who made them and why? Visit featured artworks by international household names like Anish Kapoor and Olafur Eliasson to our own stellar Cultural Medallion award winners like Han Sai Por and Chong Fah Cheong.

Choose from three trails to explore:

- 1) Art in the Civic District: The Must-see Public Art Downtown (approx. 60min)
- 2) Form, Shape, Colour & Line: Abstraction in Public Art (approx. 60min)
- 3) Made in Singapore: Public Art by Singapore Artists (approx. 60min)

The tours are conducted every last Sunday of the month. Tour slots are on a first come, first served basis so do check out <https://www.eventbrite.sg/o/public-art-trust-14039511426> to book your spot. All tours are free and are guided by ACT3 International.

Thian Hock Keng Tours

Location: Thian Hock Keng main entrance

Time: 9.00am to 1.00pm

Thian Hock Keng is one of Singapore's oldest and most important temple for immigrants from southern China's Fujian province. Completed in 1842 and standing on what used to be the shoreline, it is dedicated to the worship of Ma Zu Po, the Goddess of the Sea. While most of the building materials came from China, the temple incorporates cast-iron railings from Scotland and tiles from England and Holland. In 1973, it was gazetted as a National Monument. The restoration project received the 2001 Architectural Heritage Award and the Honorable Mention in the 2001 UNESCO Asia-Pacific Heritage Award.

Volunteers will be conducting temple tours at regular intervals. To join a guided tour, please meet at the entrance of the temple.

Thian Hock Keng Mural

Location: Thian Hock Keng rear wall along Amoy Street

Time: Anytime

Commissioned by Singapore Hokkien Huay Kuan and painted by artist Yip Yew Chong, the heritage mural for Thian Hock Keng depicts the voyage of the early Hokkien immigrants; their early lives when they settled in Telok Ayer and Amoy Street; their struggles; their tenacity and resilience; and their contribution towards Singapore's nation building.

The mural was officially launched on 13 April 2017 as part of the Singapore Hokkien Festival 2017. It now comes with an Augmented Reality feature – simply point your mobile phones at various parts of the mural to see digital photos, videos and interesting facts of that era.

Heritage Visuals

Location: Telok Ayer Green facing Amoy Street

Time: 8.00am to 12.00pm

While making your way through the quaint street, make pauses to find out more about the evolution of Telok Ayer from the heritage visuals.

Pioneer Trail along Ann Siang Hill and Telok Ayer Green by NParks

Heritage Film Tour: Traversing Downtown Singapore Through Film by Hun Ping

Location: The bicycle tour will begin at the entrance of Victoria Theatre and Concert Hall and end at Telok Ayer Street (Far East Square)

Time: 9.00am to 11.30am

Ninety years ago, local feature filmmaking began in a shophouse in the Telok Ayer District. The Singapore-registered Nanyang Lau Poey Kim Motion Picture Company (南洋刘贝锦自制影片公司) had set up a production office at 12, Pekin Street and by 1927, completed what was most likely the first local narrative feature film produced in Singapore. The film, a Chinese silent movie titled 'New Friend' or 'Xin Ke' (新客; New Immigrant), premiered at Victoria Theatre on 4 March 1927. The story of the film commenced with the arrival of an immigrant at the Singapore harbour. Likewise, many films from subsequent eras that were made or shot in Singapore featured the old harbour of Singapore, oftentimes with protagonists disembarking at Clifford Pier or Telok Ayer Basin. The downtown area surrounding Clifford Pier (stretching from Boat Quay to Telok Ayer Street) was also a popular locale for film shoots. It was where celluloid stories were conjured up as part of 1930s Hollywood features; WWII documentaries; classic films from the golden era of Malay cinema (1950s-60s); and the numerous Hong Kong and Euro-American films that found this tropical city to be a heady and enticing backdrop.

Experience these films of places and buildings in downtown Singapore as they were: moving images of their former selves hidden behind and beneath conserved facades, land reclamations and the ever-new cityscape brought about by urban renewal. Tour participants will get to watch film clips from decades ago, pore over old maps and pick up little histories of this perpetually transforming city through their smartphones on whatsapp. The tour leader, Hun Ping aka sgfilmmhunter, will upload film clips and make them available for online viewing at the stops during the tour (via Youtube).

Singapore Yu Huang Gong Open House

Location: Singapore Yu Huang Gong, 150 Telok Ayer Street

Time: 9.30am to 12.30pm

Established in 1831, the Former Keng Teck Whay Building is now home to the Taoist temple, Singapore Yu Huang Gong (玉皇宮). Designated as a national monument in 1973, the temple building features beautifully preserved elements like the curved roof ridges with upturned 'swallow tail' sweeps on the ends characteristic of the traditional Hokkien style. Once home to one of Singapore's oldest self-help organisations, the building stands witness to the presence and contributions of the Hokkien Peranakans (Straits Chinese) in colonial Singapore and to the community spirit of mutual aid among the pioneers. The monument will be open for visits.

Nagore Dargah Indian Muslim Heritage Centre Open House

Location: Nagore Dargah Indian Muslim Heritage Centre, 140 Telok Ayer Street

Time: 9.30am to 12.30pm

Erected by the Chulia community in 1828, the Former Nagore Dargah building is a magnificent eclectic style building that testifies to the community's presence in Chinatown in the past and also to their contributions to early colonial Singapore's economy. The monument underwent major restoration works in 2007 and in May 2011, the Nagore Dargah Indian Muslim Heritage Centre was officially opened, with a new gallery that comprises a multimedia exhibit and storyboard. Come visit the monument to learn more about the pioneers of the Indian Muslim community in Singapore.
