

The LTPR logo

The LTPR logo is inspired by the colours used in URA's land use plans and key elements of our built environment, from housing, greenery, economy, transport, to technology. It symbolises how these elements are closely intertwined and carefully considered in land use planning, and what URA seeks to continue to achieve in the LTPR – to cater to Singapore's diverse needs and shape a good quality living environment, by optimising the use of our land.

The tagline "Space For Our Dreams" encapsulates the boundless possibilities to plan for a future Singapore that reflects the hopes and aspirations of Singaporeans, despite our land constraints. It illustrates URA's call and commitment to partner Singaporeans as stewards of the land to collectively create a great future city to live, work and play in.
