

Annex D: The Loveable Singapore Report

The Loveable Singapore Project is an initiative led by the DesignSingapore Council to find out what we love about Singapore and what would make us love Singapore more. Through this study, we hope to define what loveability means in Singapore and identify gaps and opportunities for interventions by private and public agencies, as well as communities and individuals. Download the report here.