Lucky Shophouse

CHANG Architects

We restored an old book store to become a residential house and, instead of maximising its built-up area, transformed the concrete backyard into a single-story extension and a garden, thus offering breathing spaces and green spaces for the family to enjoy.

T House

Linghao Architects

We brought the garden, the sun, rain, and breeze into the house with a partially submerged yet open living room, where the occupants of the house can live together, grow plants and enjoy the outdoors indoor.

SkyTerrace@Dawson

SCDA Architects Pte Ltd

We designed inter-connected but separate loft units in high-rise public housing to allow young families to live close to their elderly parents, whilst retaining the privacy and independence of both parties.

Khoo Teck Puat Hospital

CPG Consultants Pte Ltd & RMJM Hillier (Design Consultant & Medical Planner)

We integrated the neighbouring pond into the overall hospital design, and transformed the hospital into a waterfront health-promoting park for patients and residents in the vicinity to use for exercise, recreation, interaction and recuperation.

Enabling Village

WOHA Architects Pte Ltd

We adapted a former vocational institute into an inclusive space – integrating education, work, training, retail and lifestyle – that connects people with disabilities to residents in nearby housing estates and to the wider community.

Library@Orchard

Singapore Polytechnic,
DIA Brand Consultants,
New Space Architects Pte Ltd
& National Library Board

We conceived a more engaging public library in a shopping mall, using design-thinking to study the needs and interests of library users and the community.

Bishan – Ang Mo Kio Park

Ramboll Studio Dreiseitl Pte Ltd

We turned a storm water canal back into a free- flowing river, which meanders through a park, to bring back bio-diversity, and to bring people closer to water and let them interact with it, enjoy it, and cherish it.

Southern Ridges

Henderson Waves* by in collaboration with IJP Corporation Ltd, UK

Alexandra Arch and Forest Walk* by LOOK Architects Pte Ltd

We connected five parks and gardens in the southern part of Singapore by picturesque bridges and pathways into a 10-kilometre stretch of green open spaces where visitors can enjoy the best panoramic view of the city, harbour and the Southern Islands.

The Caterpillar’s Cove

Lekker Architects Pte Ltd

We reimagined a conventional office space into an adaptive open plan for young children to play and learn through exploration and self-regulation – a model for other early-childhood learning facilities.

Goodlife! Makan

DP Architects Pte Ltd

Using food as a connector, we converted an empty space below a public housing block into a communal kitchen to re-connect stay-alone seniors to the wider community through cooking and dining activities.

i Light Marina Bay

ZARCH Collaboratives Pte Ltd

To prepare for the growth of the city centre, we have been reclaiming the city’s waterfront since the 1970s. The Marina Bay district is testament to this national effort and has become a top destination for business and recreation where large-scale events, such as i Light Marina Bay Light Art Festival, are held – reclaiming the waterfront and its public spaces for the community.

Community Living Rooms

Residents of Jurong East & Tampines
Singapore University of Technology and Design
National University of Singapore

Residents of several public housing estates engaged in dialogues with town managers and designers, and collaboratively transformed unused corners into community living rooms and open farms for everyone.
